

RESEARCH Support and promotion of research projects carried out by the LMU as well as by other institutions.

- Cooperation with national and international researchers
- Developing of joint research projects in the field of multilingualism
- Michael Clyne Research Professorship
- Establishment of a research network

TRANSFER Transfer of results from state of the art studies for seminars and training.

- make research results available to the public
- developing new research projects and methods based on the demands and request from economy, politics and society
- generating and carrying out of (pilot) projects

IMPLEMENTATION Providing relevant information, concepts, methods and programs in public.

- panel discussions
- working groups
- publications

IFM International Research Unit for Multilingualism

Internationale
Forschungsstelle
Mehrsprachigkeit

Prof. Dr. Claudia Maria Riehl
Director and founder of IFM

The international research center for multilingualism IFM (opened in November 2013) has set itself the target of enhancing language skills and intercultural competence within German society and sustainably improving the importance of multilingualism. This includes encouraging both the multilingualism of children and the multilingual skills of all fellow citizens. The IFM effectively implements scientific findings, imparting to the public. The research center acts as an expert for questions about multilingualism. It also forms a center for academic exchange for researchers from Germany and abroad.

CONTACT

Johanna Holzer
Coordination

Institut für Deutsch als Fremdsprache

Ludwigstraße 27/ G105

80539 München

Email: ifm@daf.lmu.de

Tel.: 089-2180 6847

Fax: 089-2180 3999

www.ifm.daf.lmu.de

